THE HEADMASTER

....and then we were 109! Our fourth year has been another year of growth in many ways. As a school we jumped in numbers from 79 to 109. (Next year we expect to be 124.) We added a Seventh Grade and even though space requires that next year we only go through Sixth, we are looking ahead to the possibility of re-introducing both Seventh and Eighth again very soon.

My congratulations to our first graduating classes. Included among them are two students who were among the thirteen who attended classes on our first day in September, 1975. One of them has the distinct honor of having attended St. Paul's since her Kindergarten year, eight years ago. I hope that as the years pass they will want to come back to visit us.

After a year of hard work, all our students and teachers deserve congratulations. I know they are looking forward to an enjoyable summer. May their holidays live up to their expectations!

THE

---

It is in the nature of schools for students and teachers to come and go. We learn to enjoy and appreciate one another while we are together and say our "good-byes" knowing that there are always new friends to be made and new experiences ahead of us. Just the same, when we do say good-bye, we can make it a time to express our gratitude for past friendship and help.

In that spirit, this yearbook is dedicated to those who are leaving us this June. That includes a number of teachers who have served us all well. Every one of them has made his or her contribution to our teaching and learning together, and all deserve our deep thanks.

We hope no-one will mind, however, if we single out John Tuttle for special mention. Mr. Tuttle has been with us since we began the new St. Paul's in 1975. Through our growing years he has challenged students throughout the school, in Kindergarten and in Physical Education, to devote themselves to good learning.

He has used both imagination and skill to guide them into using all their own talents in learning and living together. All of that plus his integrity and good humor make him someone we shall miss very much at St. Paul's. We wish him the very best in life through the years ahead!

SPECIAL TEACHERS

SANDRA DELAY

Mrs. Delay, our School Secretary, is the "glue" of St. Paul's School, because she keeps us all working together. She "unites" us, to quote a dictionary definition of glue. We all love her and admire her. She does not think she is a special teacher. But she indeed is "special" and she is always teaching by her good example!

FLEA by George Forneret

I wish I were a flea,
I could hop and jump as I please.
But if I were a frog,
Like a bump on a log,
I might get a bump on me!

BIRDS by Angie Eichelberger

I like to think of birds up high and wonder why they love to fly and then I think of things they do
and most of it is really true.
If I could do the things they do,
then I would be the thought of you.

David Maronda

TREES by George Potstada Trees are shallow and trees are still Trees are tall, trees are small,
 Trees are thin, trees are fat.
 And that, my friend, is the end of that!

MRS. CART by John Blair
 There once was a lady named Cart
 Whose appearance gave people a start.
 Her nose like a candle,
 Her ears like door handles,
 And her teeth three inches apart!

WOULD YOU RATHER BE A BUTTERFLY OR A KITE

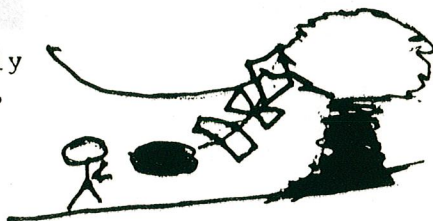

I think I would rather be a butterfly than a kite, because a butterfly is free and can go wherever he wants. But a kite is not free. It is held up by a string and it can get caught up in a tree. A kite can get torn easier than a butterfly.

Tami Dohel

I would like to be a butterfly because a kite could tear up. A kite could get lost. A kite could get hooked on a wire. A kite isn't alive.

Haji Dove

I would like to be a butterfly because I would be free. I would not be in a house most of the time. I would not have a string on me and I could soar in the sky.

Mike Tolbert

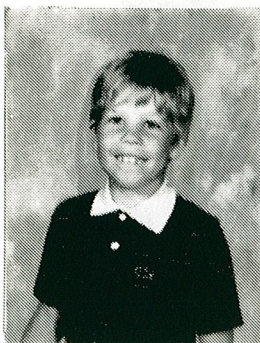

I would rather be a butterfly so I can fly around. A kite goes on a string but a butterfly doesn't,

Alexandra Seaton

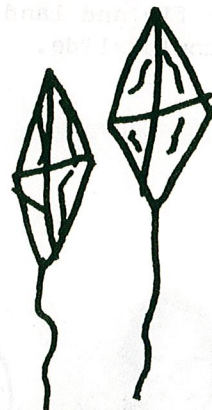

I would like to be a butterfly because I could fly. But I would not like to be a butterfly because people would try to catch me. I would not like to be a kite because I would rip. I would like to be a kite because I could go very high.

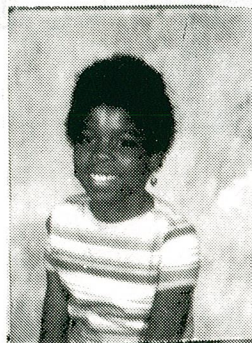

Scott Turner

I would rather be a butterfly because I would be neat and pretty. I could fly, and my colors would glow.

Layla Dunlap

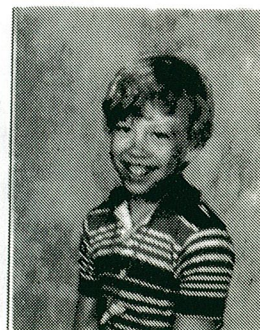

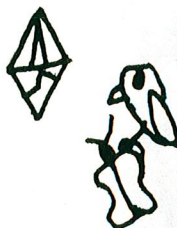

I would like to be a butterfly because he is two things in his life, a butterfly and a caterpillar. He's pretty. I would not like to be a kite because it could get torn and stuck up in a tree.

Matthew Schoch

I would rather be a butterfly than a kite, because I wouldn't like to be ripped or have a string tied to me. I would not like to be attacked by a bird. I would like to be changed from a caterpillar into a butterfly.

Perrin Phillips

I want to be a kite because it can fly and land flat on the ground.
I could glide.

Brandon Valentine

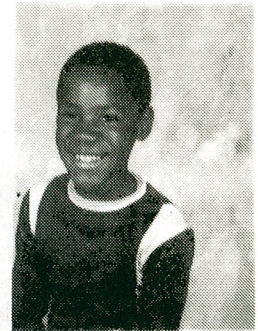

I would like to be a butterfly
because I would have two lives.
I would have beautiful wings.
I wouldn't like to be a kite because I would get torn in a tree.

Asuka Sugata

I would rather be a butterfly
because I would fly high. I would rather not be a kite because it would tear. I would rather not be a butterfly because I might die. I would rather be a kite because I could do tricks.

Jay Nado

I'd rather be a butterfly than a kite because I think butterflies are prettier.
And kites rip very fast.
Most kites are not very colorful like butterflies.
I really like butterflies
alot. They are nice pets too.

Robyn Hunter

I would rather be a butterfly
than a kite. If I were a kite
I'd be misused. If I were a butterfly
I would be little and filled with color.

Ila Ravenaugh

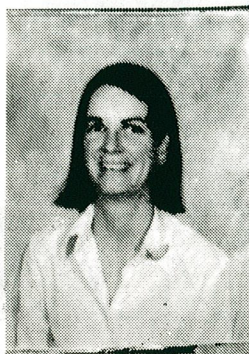

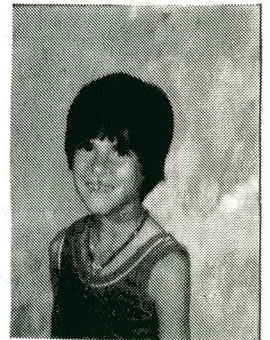

I would rather be a kite
because some butterflies only live a week. Butterflies could get caught in spider webs or caught by a mantis.
A kite could go higher.

Devin Fernandez

I want to be a butterfly
because it has no strings.
I don't want to be a kite because it gets torn. I'm not going to be a kite
because it is only partly free.
